

Olingsgymnasiet

From complexity to control

A school where Mac is a natural choice

A school where Mac is a natural choice

Olingsgymnasiet is paving the way for the future of learning by fully committing to using Mac in education. With approximately 950 MacBooks in operation across several high school programs, technology is an integrated part of everyday life for both students and staff.

Olingsgymnasiet in Skara is a creative high school with high ambitions. Here, technology should be a support, not a barrier, for teaching and administration. But when the school's IT structure could no longer meet growing needs, a change was necessary.

Challenge

How do you create a stable, secure, and future-proof IT environment that works for both teachers and students?

Foxway was tasked with helping Olinsgymnasiet take control of its IT and create a solution that is sustainable in the long term. Before the project started, Olinsgymnasiet had a local Profile Manager set up by an external IT provider. That solution no longer met the school's needs:

- Limited functionality and difficulties managing a growing number of devices
- No central control over apps and devices
- Risk of operational disruptions and security issues

Solution – Tech Solution

Foxway took a comprehensive approach to the school's IT environment and implemented a solution that provides control, security, and simplicity:

- New MDM solution: All devices are managed centrally and under control
- Integration with Apple School Manager: Automated device management and volume app purchases
- LDAP integration: Sync between the school's cloud environment and MDM for users and groups
- Secure enrollment: Authentication against the school's cloud environment, devices end up in the right place with the right permissions
- Office 365 instance: For teachers and administrative staff

Result

After implementation, Olinsgymnasiet has an IT environment that works as it should—without interruptions and with full control:

- Stable and secure operations
- Smoother administration and easier teaching work
- All Apple devices are under control and linked to the correct users
- Prepared for future expansion

Foxway Tech Solution

Tech Solutions Advisory is Foxway's service for strategic IT consulting and technical implementation.

We help schools:

- Make smart strategic decisions in the short and long term
- Create a stable and secure IT environment that supports teaching and administration
- Reduce the gap between the organization and the IT department

All our employees have the accreditations and certifications required to ensure quality in school-related IT projects. Whatever technical challenges you face, we are here to help.

 Premium Education Partner

